SUMMARY

I'm an all-around general dentist with a strong passion for endodontics.

Over the past five years, I've gained valuable experience in public and private clinics, performing a wide range of general dentistry procedures. I especially take pride in helping patients with dental anxiety feel comfortable by giving each patient the time they need to build trust.

As a member of the Danish Endodontic Society, I stay updated on the latest dental research and innovations. I have experience working with a microscope and use loupes daily. One of my goals is to become a board-certified endodontist.

With my Dubai Health Authority license recently complete, I'm excited to develop my skills in a country at the forefront of dental excellence.

Outside of work, I stay active through CrossFit and running, understanding the importance of health in supporting a long career.

I'm fluent in Danish, Arabic, and English, with a basic understanding of Norwegian and Swedish.
